CHAMP CLARK IN FAVOR OF UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES;
HARDING SPEAKS AT DENVER

Former Speaker, in Letter Opposing Use of His Name in Georgia Primaries, Calls for "Ablest Democrat."

Champ Clark of Missouri, candidate for the presidential nomination eight years ago, came out strongly yesterday for election of uninstructed delegates to the democratic national convention.

Opposing use of his name as a candidate in the Georgia preferential primary, Mr. Clark declared that while no man would "decline a presidential nomination tendered by a great party," the essential thing would be to have a convention, "thoroughly democratic platform and then nominate the best democrat to be found."

Mr. Clark's letter, Mr. Clark's views were expressed in the following letter to Hiram L. Gardner of Easton, secretary of the Georgia democratic committee:

"I am profoundly grateful to my Georgia friends who have suggested that my name should be placed on the ticket at the preferential presidential primary.

"My own opinion is that it is best not to do that. In my judgment the San Francisco convention should be absolutely a consulting body to do two things:

"1. Adopt a thoroughly democratic platform made of time-tried and fundamental democratic principles, progressive and up-to-date.

"2. On such democratic platform nominate the ablest and most thoroughgoing democrat that can be found.

None Would Decline.
"No man will decline a presidential nomination tendered freely by a great party for the presidency of the United States is not only the most powerful office known to our political system, but it is the most coveted by the wit of man. It should not be bestowed on any man to gratify his personal ambition, but solely for the good of the country, for the only reason for a political party is to protect the prosperity, the happiness and glory of the American people.

"So believing, I think it would be fortunate for both the party and the country if all the delegates to San Francisco should go uninstructed so as to be free after consultation to agree on the best men possible for President and Vice President on a platform thoroughly democratic in every plank.

"The record of the democratic administration and the democratic Congress is beyond all praise. On it we stand and on it we should win to the end that the national and state governments shall be maintained in their full constitutional vigor, and that law and order may prevail everywhere under our flag. But even if we should fail with such a platform and such candidates, our party would emerge from the contest in splendid fighting trim for future conflicts."

Harding Sees No Return to Pre-War Conditions

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Col., March 11.—There will be no return to pre-war conditions in industry and commerce, Senator Warren G. Harding, candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency, declared in an address here last night. He added that the new conditions are here to stay, but said that the cost of living could be considerably lowered by economy on the part of the government and thrift by individuals.

"We ought to declare the republican party unalterably against government ownership and nationalization of industry, or any other compromise with socialism which promises to fix our goal within the reach of mediocrity," he declared. "We have seen the experiment made in the name of war and we ought now to face about on war's extravagant expenditures and get to thinking in millions instead of incomprehensible billions."

Urges Saving.
"The high cost of government is the first cause of the high cost of living. We must become sane in expenditure and turn back to the thrift and the security of good fortune."

Senator Harding declared prohibition is a settled issue for the present and said that there was no chance of either party making a modification of the eighteenth amendment a plank in its platform. "Under the present system of amending the Constitution," he said, "there is no chance of repealing the eighteenth amendment."

After an address at a luncheon of the bar association today the senator will leave for Colorado Springs. He expects to return to Washington by Monday.

29 Alabama Democrats

MONTGOMERY, March 11.—With the expiration at midnight of the time fixed by the state democratic committee for qualification of candidates for the United States Senate, House of Representatives and state and circuit positions, to be voted upon in the primary May 11, a field of twenty-nine candidates had been provided for the national office.

The tickets, as applicable to the national legislative seats will be as follows:

United States Senate—Long term, Oscar W. Underwood, L. B. Musgrove and Samuel D. Weakly.

House of Representatives—First district, John H. McDuffie; second district, S. H. Dent, Jr.; J. R. Tyson and J. H. Braswell; third district, Henry B. Steagall and W. J. Lee; fourth district, Fred Blackmon and Lamar Jeffers; fifth district, Sanford Mullins, W. B. Bowling, O. C. Carmichael, H. E. Gipson, George A. Sorrells, W. P. Cobb and John McCain; sixth district, W. J. Oliver; seventh district, L. B. Rainey; eighth district, E. B. Almon; ninth district, George Huddleston and M. B. Grace; tenth district, W. B. Bankhead, A. U. Hollis and Mason Douglas.

Qualifications for the United States Senate to succeed the late Senator Bankhead, thus far—J. T. Heflin, Emmet O'Neal and J. W. Abercrombie. The limit for the latter office has been extended to March 15, by which time it is expected other candidates will enter.

McAdoo's Name Withdrawn.
ATLANTA, March 11.—The name of William G. McAdoo will not appear in the Georgia preferential primary April 1.

HEALTHY CHILDREN come from healthy mothers. And mothers will realize the healthy if they'll take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Nothing can equal it in building up a woman's strength, in regulating and restoring all her natural functions, and in putting in perfect order every part of the female system. It lessens the pains and burdens, expels and strengthens weak, nursing mothers.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and bracing nerve.

Caster oil is good for children or adults, and especially good for aged people. A pleasant form of a reliable laxative that is to be had at any drug store, was invented by Dr. Pierce, who got together many valuable ingredients, and made a reliable, constant, therefore harmless.

to clear the democratic primary ballot of all names except that of Gov. James M. Cox were taken yesterday. Former Gov. James E. Campbell filed with Secretary of State Harvey Smith a statement withdrawing his name from the ballot, but leaving his consent to candidates for delegates to the national convention to name him second choice.

S. E. Godden, secretary of the democratic state committee, filed a protest against putting the name of James O. Monroe, Chicago, on the democratic ballot on the ground that his declaration is insufficient.

James R. Garfield, the second choice candidate for Gen. Wood delegates on the republican ballot, today is expected to file a withdrawal similar to that of Campbell. That will leave only Wood and Senator Harding on the preferential ballot.

Effort for Pittman Falls.
RENO, Nev., March 11.—Although Senator Pittman wrote February 14 to United States Attorney Woodburn declining to be a candidate for delegate to the San Francisco national convention, former Attorney General Thatcher brought his name up in the democratic state convention here yesterday. The chairman refused to entertain Thatcher's motion to make Pittman a delegate, ruling it out of order.

Senator Key Pittman said today that the action of the Nevada democratic central committee in not choosing him a delegate to the national convention was at his own suggestion.

"I notified the central committee," Senator Pittman said, "that under no circumstances would I permit my name to be presented as a candidate for delegate, nor would I accept such a place if chosen. I have received a telegram from a member of the committee saying that after receipt of my request my name was not considered."

(Both Senator Pittman and Senator Henderson said they had asked not to be chosen delegates because they expected to attend the convention in any event, and preferred that the places on the delegation go to their friends.)

We bought this lot at a sacrifice price, much lower than prevailed last fall, and we, in turn, are offering same to you at a very reasonable figure. The pack of canned lima beans last year was very limited, due to crop failure in the eastern U. S., resulting in prices much above the average.

However, here is a car of standard quality goods, an excellent offering in every way, and you will be greatly pleased when you see the contents of the can.

1,239 cases—an average of about TEN cases to each store—so it's evident that the early shoppers will be the ones to realize on this offering.
